

ECONOMIC IMPACT STATEMENT

K.A.R. 115-25-9. Deer; open season, bag limit, and permits.

DESCRIPTION: The proposed exempt regulation establishes hunting bag limits, application periods and season dates for the 2011-2012 firearm, muzzleloader and archery deer seasons. There are very few changes from 2010-2011 seasons. Season dates are adjusted to coincide with the calendar.

FEDERAL MANDATES: None

ECONOMIC IMPACT: If the economic impact to the department, the general public, small business and other agencies from the 2011-12 seasons were to be similar to the estimate for the 2001-2011 seasons, total revenue to the department from the sale of all resident, nonresident, and landowner/tenant deer permits is estimated to be approximately $8,000,000.

Approximately 575,000 days of hunting activity by 115,000 hunters are anticipated. A 2006 survey conducted by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service estimated that big game hunters spent approximately $1100 per year on trip and equipment expenditures, thus the 2011-12 deer seasons in Kansas are anticipated to generate approximately $126.5 million worth economic benefit to businesses providing big game goods and services. No other economic impact to state agencies, small businesses, or other individuals is anticipated.

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED: None.
