115-14-15. Falconry; transfers, trading, and sale of raptors.  (a) The number of transactions transferring a falconry raptor between permittees shall not be restricted if the permittee taking possession of the raptor does not exceed the possession limit in K.A.R. 115-14-12.

(b) Upon the death of a falconry permittee, the surviving spouse, executor, administrator, or other legal representative of the deceased falconry permittee may transfer any raptor held by the permittee to another authorized permittee within 90 days. After 90 days, the disposition of any raptor held under the permit shall be at the discretion of the secretary.

(c) No wild-caught raptor shall be sold or purchased, bartered, or traded, whether or not the raptor has been transferred or held in captivity for any period.

(d) A wild-caught raptor may be transferred to another falconry permit holder in accordance with the following requirements:

1. The transferor shall report the transfer within 10 calendar days by submitting the information to the electronic database of the United States fish and wildlife service.

2. Upon transfer to another properly permitted falconer, the raptor shall not count toward the number of wild raptors that may be taken from the wild by the receiving falconer.

(e) A wild-caught raptor may be transferred to the holder of a raptor propagation permit in accordance with the following provisions:

1. A falconry raptor shall be transferred to a properly permitted captive propagation permittee if the raptor is used for propagation purposes for more than eight months.

   A. The individual holding the raptor propagation permit may be the same individual holding the falconry permit or a different person.

   B. Each raptor that is transferred shall have been used for falconry for at least two calendar years, except that the following raptor species shall have been used for falconry for at least one calendar year:

      i. Sharp-shinned hawk (Accipiter striatus);
      ii. Cooper’s hawk (Accipiter cooperii);
      iii. merlin (Falco columbarius); and
      iv. American kestrel (Falco sparverius).

   C. The falconry permittee shall report the transfer within 10 calendar days by submitting the information to the electronic database of the United States fish and wildlife service.

   D. The transferred bird shall be banded with a black nylon, nonreusable, numbered band issued by the United States fish and wildlife service.

2. A falconry raptor may be temporarily transferred to a permitted captive propagation permittee for propagation purposes in accordance with the following provisions:

   A. The individual holding the raptor propagation permit may be the same individual holding the falconry permit or a different person.

   B. A falconry raptor shall not be used for captive propagation for more than eight months in a calendar year.

   C. The permittee shall notify the department in writing of the dates on which the bird begins and ends captive propagation activity.

3. A falconry raptor may be permanently transferred to the holder of a permit type other than a falconry permit or captive propagation permit in accordance with the following provisions:

   A. The transfer may occur regardless of the time during which the wild-caught bird has been used for falconry purposes.

   B. The bird shall have been injured and a veterinarian or wildlife rehabilitator shall have determined that the bird shall no longer be flown for falconry.

   C. The falconry permittee shall report the transfer within 10 calendar days by submitting the information to the electronic database of the United States fish and wildlife service. The falconry permittee shall also provide a copy of the certification from the veterinarian or wildlife rehabilitator stating that the bird cannot be used for falconry to the regional migratory bird permit office of the United States fish and wildlife service within 10 calendar days of the transfer.
(f) Any captive-bred falconry raptor may be transferred to another falconry permit holder. The transferor shall report the transfer within 10 calendar days by submitting the transfer report to the electronic database of the United States fish and wildlife service.

(g) A captive-bred falconry raptor may be transferred to the holder of a permit type other than falconry. The transferor shall report the transfer within 10 calendar days to the electronic database of the United States fish and wildlife service.

(h) Any permittee may acquire a raptor for falconry purposes from a permitted rehabilitator if all of the following requirements are met:

   (1) The raptor shall be of an age and species allowed under the permittee’s classification level.
   (2) The acquisition shall not place the permittee in excess of the possession limit.
   (3) The transfer from the rehabilitator to the permittee shall be at the discretion of the rehabilitator.
   (4) Each raptor acquired by transfer from a rehabilitator shall count as one of the raptors that the permittee is allowed to take from the wild for that calendar year.
   (5) The permittee shall report each raptor acquired by transfer from a rehabilitator within 10 days of the transfer by submitting the required information to the electronic database of the United States fish and wildlife service.

This regulation shall be effective on and after December 31, 2012. (Authorized by and implementing K.S.A. 32-807; effective Dec. 31, 2012.)
