A LITTLE ABOUT US

The historic scout cabin in Schermerhorn Park has been transformed into a wonderful nature center. Animal and plant exhibits native to the area are displayed throughout the center. Exploration drawers are filled with hands-on materials to give visitors an opportunity to learn about nature up close. Environmental education classes and workshops are offered each month. The adjoining park grounds, trails, cave and creek make a perfect setting for science and nature studies. Visitors are pleasantly surprised with the wide variety of activities and materials available.

SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE

The nature center offers a variety of opportunities for learning and participation:

- Exploration drawers with hands on materials.
- Computers with nature based programs
- Bird viewing area for bird watching
- Movie viewing area with nature and history films
- Animal and plant exhibits native to the area
- Large collection of Native American artifacts
- Live examples of insects and reptiles
- Nature trails – examples of woodland and grassland trails and trail to Schermerhorn Cave.

“When one tugs at a single thing in nature, he finds it attached to the rest of the world.”
- John Muir
