Pheasant hunting is a subset of small game hunting. Small game hunting requires a general hunting license. Big game hunting requires a permit for the species to be hunted as well as a general hunting license. As a result, the agency cannot determine the economic impact of the sale of hunting licenses specifically used to hunt pheasants. However, based on 2020 hunting license sales, the agency sold approximately 156,236 general hunting licenses of all categories, both resident and nonresident, generating approximately $9,209,640.00, all of which accrues to the wildlife fee fund. The sale of small game hunting licenses generates an additional $73,743,392.00 for the Kansas economy, based on data contained in a report published by the United States Fish and Wildlife Service every five years. The agency held public hearings on this regulation on January
